High Demand Careers
Pasco-Hernando State College, partnered with 11 Florida state and community colleges, is working to end the shortage of skilled workers in Florida's manufacturing industry. Florida manufacturers employ almost 329,000 people. In 2014, the top 15 fastest growing manufacturing sectors will add nearly 13,000 new jobs in Florida.

The Florida TRADE (Transforming Resources for Accelerated Degrees and Employment) Grant has allowed us to develop a statewide training system for multilevel, high-demand jobs such as welders, machinists, and technicians in various manufacturing sectors. Aligned with the schools are more than 100 manufacturing companies who offer internship and employment opportunities. Students attending our courses and programs will become prime job candidates in the industry.
